

Data Protection Declaration

1. Purpose

Jakob Müller Holding AG attaches great value to the protection of your privacy and undertakes to comply with the legal provisions on data protection in Switzerland and the European Union (EU). The privacy policy is based on the regulations of the EU General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR) and the Swiss Federal Data Protection Act (FADP).

The privacy policy applies to all websites of Jakob Müller Holding AG and its group companies ("JM websites").

Below we inform you about what data we may process and how we handle it.

The aim is to protect your personal data during processing in our group companies.

We reserve the right to change this privacy policy at any time.

2. Scope

This Privacy Notice explains how we collect and use personal information. Personal Information means any information relating to an identified or identifiable natural person; one who can be identified, directly or indirectly, by reference to an identifier such as name, an identification number, location data, an online identifier, or to one or more factors specific to the physical, physiological, genetic, mental, economic, cultural or social identity of that natural person.

We collect personal information in a variety of ways through our normal business activities, both online and offline. This includes, for example, when you place orders or purchase products or services, enter into agreements or communicate with us, or visit and use our websites. We also receive personal information from our customers in order to perform services on their behalf.

3. Identity of Data Controller

To identify the Jakob Müller entity responsible for the processing of your personal information, you can ask your Jakob Müller business contact, consult the list of our locations on the Jakob Müller public website:

<https://www.mueller-frick.com>

or contact our Privacy Office:

privacy@mueller-frick.com.

4. Categories of Personal Information

Personal information that we may collect and process includes:

- Contact Information that allows us to communicate with you, such as your name, job title, age and prefix, username, mailing address, telephone numbers, email address or other addresses that allow us to send you messages, company information and registration information you provide on our website.
- Relationship Information that helps us do business with you, such as the types of products and services that may interest you, contact and product preferences, languages, creditworthiness, marketing preferences and demographic data.
- Transactional information about how you interact with us, including purchases, inquiries, customer account information, order and contract information, delivery details, billing and financial data, details for taxes, transaction and correspondence history, and information about how you use and interact with our websites.
- Security and Compliance Information that helps us to secure our interests, including information for conflict checks, fraud prevention and internal verification, as well as information necessary for the security of our premises, such as visual recordings.
- Our products may collect system and event information relating to their setup, configuration and operation, as well as information collected by our products in their ordinary course of operation. This information may include sensor data, equipment data, data regarding building spaces, energy usage data, fault data, event data, environmental data, and other internal or external data as well as product usage information and product performance data. In some circumstances, this information may be Personal Data. In the case of video or security products, the information may also include video and audio signals and data. The nature and extent of the information collected by our products will vary based on the type and function of the product and the type of services for which they are used, subject to applicable laws.

5. Purposes of Processing:

- Fulfilling your orders for products or services and related activities, such as product and service delivery, customer service, account and billing management, support and training, product update and safety related notices, and to provide other services related to your purchase.
- Managing our contractual obligations and your ongoing relationship with us, including interacting with you, analyzing and improving the products and services we offer, informing you about our products or services, as well as special offers and promotions.
- Ensuring the security of our websites, networks and systems, and premises, as well as protecting us against fraud.

- Managing our everyday business needs, such as payment processing and financial account management, product development, contract management, website administration, fulfillment, corporate governance, audit, reporting and legal compliance.

6. Recipients of Personal Information:

- We may use third parties to provide or perform services and functions on our behalf. We may make personal information available to these third parties, to perform these services and functions. Any processing of that personal information will be on our instructions and compatible with the original purposes.
- We may also make personal information concerning individuals available to public or judicial authorities, law enforcement personnel and agencies as required by law, including to meet national security or law enforcement requirements, and including to agencies and courts in the countries where we operate. Where permitted by law, we may also disclose such information to third parties (including legal counsel) when necessary for the establishment, exercise or defense of legal claims or to otherwise enforce our rights, protect our property or the rights, property or safety of others, or as needed to support external audit, compliance and corporate governance functions.
- Personal information may be transferred to a party acquiring all or part of the equity or assets of Jakob Müller or its business operations in the event of a sale, merger, liquidation, dissolution, or other.
- We may also transfer and share such information to Jakob Müller affiliates in compliance with applicable law.

7. International Transfers:

The third parties, companies and group companies to which we may give access to your personal data may be located anywhere in the world. Accordingly, the information may be transferred to countries where different data protection regulations apply than in your country of residence. In such cases, we ensure that your personal data is adequately protected, e.g. through the use of standard contractual clauses of the European Commission recognized by the EDÖB and binding corporate rules.

8. Retention

We will retain your personal information as long as necessary to achieve the purpose for which it was collected, usually for the duration of any contractual relationship and for any period thereafter as legally required or permitted by applicable law.

9. Protection of Personal Information

We apply appropriate technical, physical and organizational measures that are reasonably designed to protect personal information against accidental or unlawful destruction, loss, alteration, unauthorized disclosure or access, and against other unlawful forms of processing. Access to personal information is restricted to authorized recipients on a need-to-know basis. We maintain a comprehensive information security program that is proportionate to the risks associated with the processing. The program is continuously adapted to mitigate operational risks and to protect personal information, taking into account industry-accepted practices. We will also use enhanced security measures when processing any sensitive personal information.

In some instances, we process personal information on behalf of our customers as a service (in a data processor capacity). We collect and process this personal information only as instructed by our customer and will not use or disclose it for our own purposes. We maintain information security controls to protect your information and will only disclose or transfer the personal information as instructed by the customer or to provide the requested service. Unless otherwise instructed by the customer, we treat the personal information we process on behalf of our customers in line with our commitments on disclosure and transfer as set forth in this notice.

10. Our websites

Cookies, usage data and similar tools

When you visit our websites, we may collect certain information by automated means, using technologies such as cookies, pixel tags, browser analysis tools, server logs and web beacons. In many cases, the information we collect using cookies and other tools is used in a non-identifiable way, without any reference to personal information.

Cookies are small text files that a website transfers to your computer or other device's hard drive through your web browser when you visit a website. We may use cookies to make website sign-in and usage more efficient, and to tailor your browsing preferences and improve the functionality of our websites. Cookies can be used for performance management, and for collecting information on how our website is being used for analytics purposes. They can also be used for functionality management, enabling us to make the user's visit more efficient by, for example, remembering language preferences, passwords and log-in details. There are two types of cookies: session cookies, which are deleted from your device after you leave the website; and persistent cookies, which remain on your device for longer or until you delete it manually.

We may use Flash Cookies (also known as Local Stored Objects) and similar technologies to personalize and enhance your online experience.

Our server logs may also collect information about how users utilize the websites (usage data). This data may include a user's domain name, language, type of browser and operating system, Internet service provider, Internet protocol (IP) address, the site or reference directing the user to the website, the website you were visiting before you came to our website and the website you visit after you leave our site, and the amount of time spent on the website. We may monitor and utilize usage data to measure the website's performance and activity, improve the website's design and functionality or for security purposes.

We may also use pixel tags and web beacons on our website. These are tiny graphic images placed on web pages or in our emails that allow us to determine whether you have performed a specific action. When you access these pages or open or click an email, the pixel tags and web beacons generate a notice of that action. These tools allow us to measure response to our communications and improve our web pages and promotions.

You can change your browser settings to block or notify you when you receive a cookie, delete cookies or browse our website using your browser's anonymous usage setting. Please refer to your browser instructions or help screen to learn more about how to adjust or modify your browser settings. If you do not agree to our use of cookies or similar technologies which store information on your device, you should change your browser settings accordingly. You should understand that some features of our websites may not function properly if you do not accept cookies or these technologies.

Where required by applicable law, you will be asked to consent to certain cookies and similar technologies before we use or install them on your computer or other device.

Data Sharing and Browser Do Not Track Requests

Because we do not (and do not permit others) to track our website visitors, we do not process web browser Do Not Track signals. To learn more about browser tracking signals and Do Not Track please visit:

<http://www.allaboutdnt.org/>.

Linked sites

We may provide links to third parties' websites ("linked sites") from our websites. Linked sites are not necessarily reviewed, controlled or examined by us. Each linked site may have its own terms of use and privacy notice, and users must be familiar and comply with all such terms when using linked sites. We are not responsible for the policies and practices of any linked site, or any additional links contained in them. These links do not imply our endorsement of the linked sites or any company or service and we encourage users to read these linked sites' terms and notices prior to using them.

Children

Our websites are not directed at children and we do not use our websites to knowingly solicit personal information from or market to children. If we learn that a child has provided personal information through one of our websites, we will remove that information from our systems.

Web Analyze and User-Tracking

Our intention in employing the analysis and tracking measures that are used is to ensure that the design of our website is tailored to the users' needs and that it is continually optimized. Another reason we employ the tracking measures is to record the statistics concerning the use of our website and to evaluate this for the purpose of optimizing our offer for you. These interests are to be regarded as legitimate within the meaning of the regulation specified above. The relevant data processing purposes and data categories can be found in the description of the corresponding analysis and tracking tools.

The analysis and tracking measures specified below and used by us are conducted on the basis of Article 6 (1) point f GDPR.

We may also use Google Analytics on our website to collect information about your online activity on our websites, such as the web pages you visit, the links you click, and the searches you conduct on our websites. We may use the information to compile reports and to help us improve the website. The cookies collect information in an anonymous form, including the number of visitors to the website, where visitors have come to the site from and the pages they visited. The information generated by those cookies and your current IP-address will be transmitted by your browser to and will be stored by Google on servers in the United States and other countries. Google will use this information on our behalf for the purpose of evaluating your use of our website as described above. The IP address collected through Google Analytics will not be associated with any other data held by Google. For more information about the information gathered using Google Analytics please visit:

https://support.google.com/analytics/topic/2919631?hl=de&ref_topic=1008008&sjid=7659092289457252830-EU

You can prevent these cookies by selecting the appropriate settings on your browser. If you do this you may not be able to use the full functionality of our websites. You may download and install the Google Analytics Opt-out Browser Add-on available here:

http://tools.google.com/dlpage/gaoptout.

Google Remarketing Technology

Our websites may use Google's remarketing technology. This technology enables users who have already visited our online services and shown interest in our services to see targeted advertising on the websites of the Google partner network. Likewise users that are similar to the visitors of our website can be addressed. The information generated by the cookie about the website use will be transmitted to and stored on servers in the United States by Google. In the event that the IP address is transferred, it will be reduced by the last 3 digits. Using cookies, the user behavior on a website can be analyzed and subsequently utilized to provide targeted product recommendations and advertising based on the user's interests. If you would prefer to not receive any targeted advertising, you can deactivate the use of cookies for these purposes through Google by visiting the website:

https://www.google.com/settings/ads/.

Alternatively, users can deactivate the use of cookies by third party providers by visiting the Network Advertising Initiative's deactivation website (<http://www.networkadvertising.org/choices/>). Please note that Google has its own data protection policy which is independent of our own. We assume no responsibility or liability for their policies and procedures. Please read Google's privacy policy before using our websites:

<https://www.google.com/intl/en/policies/privacy/>.

Facebook Conversion Tracking

Our websites may utilize the Conversion Tracking Pixel service of Facebook Inc., 1601 S. California Ave., Palo Alto, CA 94304, USA ("Facebook"). This tool allows us to follow the actions of users after they are redirected to a provider's website by clicking on a Facebook advertisement. We are thus able to record the efficacy of Facebook advertisements for statistical and market research purposes. The collected data remain anonymous. This means that we cannot see the personal data of any individual user. However, the collected data are saved and processed by Facebook. Facebook is able to connect the data with your Facebook account and use the data for their own advertising purposes, in accordance with Facebook's Data Use Policy found under:

<https://www.facebook.com/about/privacy/>.

Facebook Conversion Tracking also allows Facebook and its partners to show you advertisements on and outside Facebook. In addition, a cookie will be saved onto your computer for these purposes. Only users over 13 years of age may give their permission. Please click here if you would like to revoke your permission:

https://www.facebook.com/ads/website_custom_audiences/.

11. Your Rights

You may request to access, rectify, or update your inaccurate or out-of-date personal information by contacting our Privacy Office through the following link:

privacy@mueller-frick.com

To the extent of applicable law, you may have the right to request erasure of your personal information, restriction of processing as it applies to you, object to processing and the right to data portability. You may also have the right to lodge a complaint with a supervisory authority.

12. Consent and Withdrawal of Consent:

By providing personal information to us, you understand and agree to the collection, processing, international transfer and use of such information as set forth in this Privacy Notice. Where required by applicable law we will ask your explicit consent.

You may always object to the use of your personal information for direct marketing purposes or withdraw any consent previously granted for a specific purpose, free of charge by clicking on relevant links on our websites, following the directions contained in an email or by contacting our Privacy Office through the following link:

privacy@mueller-frick.com

13. Automated Decision-Making

Jakob Müller respects your rights under law regarding automated decision-making.

14. How to contact us

If you would like to communicate with us regarding privacy issues or have questions, comments or complaints, please contact our Privacy Office, by clicking on the following link:

privacy@mueller-frick.com

In compliance with the Privacy Principles, Jakob Müller commits to resolve complaints about our collection or use of your personal information. European Union and Swiss individuals with inquiries or complaints regarding our Privacy policy should first contact our Privacy Office at the above link.

15. Modifications to our Privacy Notice

We reserve the right to change, modify, and update this Privacy Notice at any time. Please check periodically to ensure that you have reviewed the most current notice.

16. Local addenda for certain countries

We have extended the Privacy Notice with specific information for certain countries where required by applicable local law.

17. Legal basis of data processing

Art. 31 para. 1 FADP and Art. 6 para. 1 lit. a EU GDPR serve our company as the legal basis for processing operations for which we obtain consent for a specific processing purpose.

If the processing of personal data is necessary for the performance of a contract to which the data subject is party, the processing is based on Art. 31 para. 2 lit. a FADP and Art. 6 para. 1 lit. b GDPR. The same applies to such processing operations that are necessary for the implementation of pre-contractual measures, for example in cases of inquiries about our products or services.

If our company is subject to a legal obligation that requires the processing of personal data, such as for the fulfillment of tax obligations, the processing is based on Art. 31 para. 1 FADP and Art. 6 para. 1 lit. c EU GDPR. In rare cases, the processing of personal data may become necessary in order to protect the vital interests of the data subject or another natural person, e.g. in the event of accidents on the business premises.

In addition, processing operations may be based on Art. 31 para. 1 FADP and Art. 6 para. 1 lit. f EU GDPR if processing is necessary for the purposes of the legitimate interests of our company or a third party, except where such interests are overridden by the interests or fundamental rights and freedoms of the data subject. The legitimate interest includes, in particular, the efficient, customer-friendly and high-quality provision of services.

18. Rights of the data subject

Data subjects are entitled to the following rights under the FADP and the EU GDPR. If you, as a data subject, wish to exercise one or more of these rights, you can contact our data protection team at any time using the following link:

privacy@mueller-frick.com

Right to information

As a data subject affected by the processing of personal data, you have the right to receive information free of charge at any time from the controller about the personal data stored about you and a copy of the personal data. The right of access concerns the following information:

- the purposes of processing,
- the categories of personal data that are processed,
- the recipients or categories of recipients to whom the personal data have been or will be disclosed, in particular recipients in third countries or international organizations,
- where possible, the planned duration for which the personal data will be stored or, if this is not possible, the criteria for determining this duration,
- the existence of the right to request from the controller rectification or erasure of personal data or restriction of processing of personal data concerning the data subject or to object to such processing,
- the existence of the right to complain to a supervisory authority,
- if the personal data are not collected from the data subject: All available information about the origin of the data,
- the existence of automated decision-making, including profiling, referred to Art. 22 (1) to (4) GDPR and, at least in those cases, meaningful information about the logic involved, as well as the significance and the envisaged consequences of such processing for the data subject.

Furthermore, data subjects have a right to information as to whether personal data has been transferred to a third country or to an international organization. If this is the case, you also have the right to obtain information about the appropriate data protection clauses in connection with the transfer.

Right to information

As a data subject of the processing of personal data, you have the right at any time to obtain free information from the party responsible for processing about your personal data which is stored and to receive a copy of your personal data. The right to information concerns the following information:

- the purposes of processing
- the categories of personal data processed
- the recipients or categories of recipients to whom the personal data have been or will be disclosed, in particular recipients in third countries or international organizations
- if possible, the planned duration for which the personal data shall be stored or, if this is not possible, the criteria for determining such duration
- the right to correct or delete personal data concerning the data subject or to restrict the processing by the controller or a right of withdrawal to such processing
- the right of appeal to a supervisory authority
- if the personal data is not collected from the data subject: All available information on the origin of the data
- the existence of automated decision making including profiling according to Article 22 1 and 4 of the GDPR and, at least in these cases, meaningful information regarding the logic involved and the scope and intended effect of such processing with respect to the data subject

Furthermore, the data subject also has the right to know whether personal data has been transferred to a third country or to an international organization. In such a case, you are also entitled to obtain information on the relevant guarantees in connection with the transmission.

Right to rectification

As a data subject affected by the processing of personal data, you have the right to demand the immediate rectification of inaccurate personal data concerning you. You also have the right to request the completion of incomplete personal data, including by means of a supplementary declaration, taking into account the purposes of the processing.

Right to erasure ("Right to be forgotten")

As a data subject affected by the processing of personal data, you have the right to demand that the personal data concerning you be deleted immediately if one of the following reasons applies and insofar as the processing is not necessary:

- The personal data was collected or otherwise processed for purposes for which it is no longer necessary (i.e. the data is no longer required).
- The data subject withdraws consent on which the processing is based according to Art. 31 para. 1 FADP and Art. 6 para. 1 lit a EU GDPR or Art. 9 para. 2 lit a EU GDPR, and where there is no other legal ground for the processing.
- The data subject objects to the processing in accordance with Art. 32 FADP or Art. 21 para. 1 EU GDPR and there are no overriding legitimate grounds for the processing, or the data subject objects to the processing in accordance with Art. 21 para. 2 EU GDPR.
- The personal data was processed unlawfully.
- The personal data must be erased for compliance with a legal obligation in Union or Member State law to which the controller is subject.
- The personal data have been collected in relation to the offer of information society services referred to in Article 8 GDPR.

If the personal data has been made public by Jakob Müller and if our company as the controller is obliged to erase the personal data pursuant to Art. 6 FADP or Art. 17 EU-GDPR, we shall take reasonable steps, taking into account the available technology and the cost of implementation, to inform other controllers processing the personal data that the personal data have been made public, in particular to erase any links to, or copy or replication of, those personal data, unless the processing is necessary.

Right to restriction of processing

As a data subject of the processing of personal data, you have the right to request the restriction of processing if one of the following conditions is met:

- The correctness of the personal data is contested by you for a period of time that enables the controller to verify the correctness of the personal data.
- The processing is unlawful, you object to the erasure of personal data and instead demand that the use of personal data be restricted.
- The controller no longer needs the personal data for the purposes of processing, you however need them to assert, exercise or defend legal claims.
- You have objected to the processing pursuant to Art. 32 GDPR or Art. 21 EU-GDPR and it is not yet clear whether the legitimate grounds of the controller override yours.

Right to data portability

As a data subject of the processing of personal data, you have the right to receive the personal data relating to you which you provided to us in a structured, common and machine readable format.

You also have the right to have this data transmitted to another controller without hindrance from the controller, provided that the processing is based on consent pursuant to Art. 31 para. 1 FADP or Art. 6 para. 1 lit. a EU GDPR or Art. 9 para. 2 lit. a EU GDPR or on a contract pursuant to Art. 31 para. 2 lit. a FADP or Art. 6 para. 1 lit. b EU GDPR lit a EU-GDPR or on a contract pursuant to Art. 31 para. 2 lit a FADP or Art. 6 para. 1 lit b EU-GDPR and the processing is carried out by automated means or if the processing is not necessary for the performance of a task carried out in the public interest or in the exercise of official authority vested in the controller.

Furthermore, when exercising your right to data portability pursuant to Art. 28 para. 2 FADP or Art. 20 EU GDPR, you have the right to obtain that the personal data be transferred directly by us to another controller, insofar as this is technically feasible and provided that this does not adversely affect the rights and freedoms of other persons.

Right to object

As a data subject of the processing of personal data, you have the right, at any time for reasons arising from your particular situation, to object to the processing of personal data concerning you which takes place in order to safeguard a legitimate interest of the controller.

This also applies to profiling based on these provisions, whereby Jakob Müller points out that no profiling is carried out.

Jakob Müller shall no longer process personal data in the case of an objection unless we can prove compelling security reasons for such processing which outweigh the interests, rights and freedoms of the data subject, or the processing serves to assert, exercise or defend legal claims.

Jakob Müller processes personal data to carry out direct advertising, therefore the data subject has the right at any time to object to the processing of personal data for the purpose of such direct advertising. This also applies to profiling insofar as it is associated with such direct advertising. If you object to Jakob Müller about the processing for direct marketing purposes, we shall no longer process your personal data for such purposes.

Automated individual decision making including profiling

As a data subject of the processing of personal data, you have the right not to be subject to a decision based solely on automated processing, including profiling, which produces legal effects concerning you or similarly significantly affects you, insofar as the decision

- is not necessary for the conclusion or performance of a contract between you and the controller or
- is permitted by Union or Member State legislation to which the controller is subject, and where such legislation contains appropriate measures to safeguard your rights and freedoms and legitimate interests, or
- is performed with your express consent.

With regard to the processing of personal data, Jakob Müller does not use purely automated decision making systems which have a legal effect on you or significantly affect you in a similar manner.

Right to lodge a complaint with a supervisory authority

As the data subject of the processing of personal data you have the right to complain to a supervisory authority, in particular, in the Member State of your place of residence, your place of work or the place of the alleged infringement, if you believe that the processing of personal data concerning you is contrary to data protection laws.

19. Plugins and Tools

YouTube with enhanced data protection

Our website uses plugins from the YouTube website. The operator of the pages is YouTube, LLC, 901 Cherry Ave, San Bruno, CA 94066, USA.

YouTube uses so-called "cookies". These are text files that are stored on your computer and enable your use of the website to be analyzed.

The legal basis for the processing of personal data using cookies is Art. 31 para. 1 DSG or Art. 6 para. 1 lit. a DSGVO and §25 para. 1 TTDSG if the user has given his consent.

You can find more information on the handling of user data by YouTube at:

Privacy policy for the use of Vimeo

Plugins from the Vimeo video portal of Vimeo, LLC, 555 West 18th Street, New York, New York 10011, USA are integrated on this website. Each time you access a page that offers one or more Vimeo video clips, a direct connection is established between your browser and a Vimeo server in the USA. Information about your visit and your IP address is stored there. By interacting with the Vimeo plugins (e.g. clicking the start button), this information is also transmitted to Vimeo and stored there. The privacy policy for Vimeo with more detailed information on the collection and use of your data by Vimeo can be found in Vimeo's privacy policy. If you have a Vimeo user account and do not want Vimeo to collect data about you via this website and link it to your membership data stored with Vimeo, you must log out of Vimeo before visiting this website. In addition, Vimeo calls up the Google Analytics tracker via an iFrame in which the video is called up. This is Vimeo's own tracking, to which we have no access. You can prevent tracking by Google Analytics by using the deactivation tools that Google offers for some Internet browsers. You can also prevent Google from collecting the data generated by Google Analytics and relating to your use of the website (including your IP address) and from processing this data by Google by downloading and installing the browser plug-in available at the following link: <https://tools.google.com/dlpage/gaoptout?hl=de>.

20. Newsletter

If you would like to receive the newsletter offered on the website, we require an e-mail address from you as well as information that allows us to verify that you are the owner of the e-mail address provided and that you agree to receive the newsletter. No further data is collected, or only on a voluntary basis. We use this data exclusively for sending the requested information and do not pass it on to third parties.

Art. 31 para. 1 DSG and Art. 6 para. 1 lit. a EU-GDPR serve our company as the legal basis for processing operations for which we obtain consent for a specific processing purpose. You can revoke your consent to the storage of your data and email address and their use for sending the newsletter at any time, for example via the "Unsubscribe" link in the newsletter. The legality of the data processing operations that have already taken place remains unaffected by the revocation.

The data you provide us with for the purpose of subscribing to the newsletter will be stored by us until you unsubscribe from the newsletter and deleted after you unsubscribe from the newsletter. Data stored by us for other purposes remains unaffected by this.
